

Workshop

Global Valuation of Nature and the Politics of Social Inequalities in Latin America

September 29, 2015, 09.00-18.30 Hrs.

Conference Room (1st Floor), Ibero-Amerikanisches Institut,
Potsdamer Str. 37, 10785 Berlin

- 10.00- 11.00 Introduction to the book, Global Valuation of Nature and the Politics of Social Inequalities in Latin America (Barbara Göbel, IAI; Imme Scholz, DIE; Marianne Braig, FU Berlin)
- 11.00 – 12.00 Extractivist Industries and Inequalities: Lessons after the Boom (Anthony Bebbington, Clark University)
- 12.00 – 12.30 coffee break
- 12.30 – 13.30 Global Carbon Markets, Deforestation and the Livelihoods of Smallholders in the Peruvian Amazon (Alejandro Guarín and Imme Scholz DIE)
- 13.30 – 15.00 Lunch
- 15:00 – 16.00 Challenges for Equitable Development in Mining and Oil Regions of Andean Countries (Javier Arellano Yanguas, Universidad de Deusto)
- 16:00 – 17.00 State Capacity and the Re-Production of Inequalities in Times of the Commodity Cycle. A comparative analysis of Mexico and Brazil (Marianne Braig, FU Berlin)
- 17:00 – 17.30 coffee break
- 17:30 – 18.30 Extractive Mining and the Role of the State in the Reconfiguration of Gender Inequalities: Territorial Implications and Alternative Proposals (Astrid Ulloa, Universidad Nacional de Colombia)
- 18:30 – 19.30 Brief Update of other contributions in the Book (Barbara Göbel, Ibero-Amerikanisches Institut; Miriam Boyer, Ibero-Amerikanisches Institut)